MOHAIR CARE TIPS

Mohair, prized for its luxurious softness, sheen, and durability, is a cherished fiber derived from the fleece of Angora goats. Its popularity in the textile industry stems from its remarkable qualities, making it a favored material for clothing, blankets, and upholstery. Caring for mohair properly is essential to maintain its integrity and longevity.

SUSTAINABLE

Angora Goat ranches run in harmony with the environment.

VERSATILE

Woven into everything from designer suits to casino carpeting.

AMERICAN GROWN

KEEP YOUR MOHAIR IN GOOD SHAPE

HANDWASH

Wash in tepid water and mild "hand washing" detergent.

FLUFF UP

To fluff up garment, lightly shake or gently brush down with hand.

SQUEEZE

Gently squeeze garments out – never pull or wring.

NO HANGERS

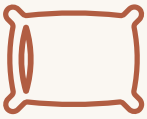
Do not keep knitted mohair garments on hangers – fold and store on a shelf.

PILE IRREGULARITIES

Try steaming using an iron held approximately 6″ away from the fabric.

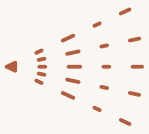
SHEDDING

To reduce shedding, place in dryer on 'Air Fluff' and tumble dry for 10 minutes.



GENTLE TUMBLE

Garments may be tumble dried in a pillowcase on a gentle cycle.



SCENTS

Do not spray perfume directly on garment, especially if it is white.

STORAGE

Store garment in a cool dry place – Do not store in plastic.

DRYING

Lay flat to dry.
